

Jane, L. Dockery

Title: Associate Director, Center for Urban and Public Affairs, Wright State University, Dayton, Ohio. Member of Ohio's Urban University Program

Jane L. Dockery holds an MBA from the University of South Dakota, AFIT. She successfully completed the CPA exam in the 1990s. She has worked as the associate director and the economic development director for Wright State University's Center for Urban and Public Affairs (CUPA) since 1995. WSU/CUPA manages a Computer Aided Telephone Interviewing (CATI) Survey Research Laboratory that completes tens of thousands of interviews each year. CUPA may access the research expertise and infrastructure of other Urban University Program members as it carries out its research efforts, and is currently advising the University of Toledo's establishment of a Survey Research Laboratory. Her primary research interests are micro-level economic and workforce development research, as well as healthcare research, especially focusing on strategic industry change. Her teaching interests are in Economic Analysis of Neighborhoods and Regions, Urban Economic Development, and Industry Change.